ABOUT ME

I'm a front-end developer focused on building web applications with ReactJS. I also have experience designing UI/UX interfaces, but I prefer to be a programmer rather than a designer as much as possible. I have experience collaborating with a team. Designing, coding, and problem-solving are part of my daily routine. My background in other fields of programming has helped me develop a better programming mindset. Definitely, I can help your company grow – just give me a chance to prove it!
